
Malayalam actress Shalin Hot is the latest celebrity to release nude photos of herself online. The photos are just her boobs, but what has people talking is that they're not wearing much else. The 38-year-old model/actress recently uploaded the photo on her Instagram page, saying she was "enjoying my body" and "breaking stereotypes". Her effortless sense of style has attracted over 5 thousand likes in less than two days. People are applauding for this stance because it's refreshing to see a woman asserting her sexuality without feeling embarrassed or ashamed about it. In a country where women are more conservative about their bodies, Shalin is setting an important example of body positivity. In social media, there has been a rise of celebrities releasing their nudes online as a way of saying "expect the unexpected from me". We're happy to say that we're feeling the unexpected and we're not disappointed.

Beauty is that which gives a person a form of expression that makes them more beautiful than anything else in the world.
